

BIOGRAPHY

UNITED STATES AIR FORCE

CHIEF MASTER SERGEANT TERESA R. CLARK

Chief Master Sergeant Teresa R. Clark is the Command Chief to the Commander of the 155th Air Refueling Wing, Nebraska Air National Guard. As the Command Chief she serves as the enlisted advocate and advisor to the Wing Commander on enlisted personnel issues, to include readiness, effective force utilization, professional military education, promotions, mentorship, morale, family, community relations, and esprit de corps.

Chief Clark entered the military service in April 1980. She was assigned to the 155th Consolidated Aircraft Maintenance Squadron. In 1983, Chief Clark cross-trained to the Training and Education career field where she was assigned to Maintenance, Civil Engineering and then Base Training. Chief Clark was selected as the first Wing Human Resources Advisor in September 1997. She then was appointed State Human Resources Advisor in 1999 assigned to Headquarters, Nebraska Air National Guard, as an advisor to The Adjutant General. In July 2005, she joined Logistics Readiness Squadron before being selected as Command Chief to the Wing Commander in October 2008.
